LS-56-072 Listen iDSP Advanced Level I
Stationary RF System (72 MHz)

Product Overview:

Designed to make it faster and easier to offer multi-channel assistive listening to your visitors and clients, the LS-56 Advanced Level I Stationary RF System includes our LT-800-072 72 MHz transmitter, telescoping antenna, and four (4) LR-5200-072 Advanced iDSP receivers.

The LR-5200-072 offers listeners exceptional audio performance and clarity thanks to having 20 dB less hiss than other RF receivers on the market. Each receiver gives listeners the choice of multiple channels, ideal for venues where language interpretation or alternate/separate audio streams are made available. The rechargeable Lithium-ion battery in each receiver offers long life and significant cost savings over the life of each unit, and they fully recharge within 2.5 hours.

Additionally, the LS-56 is complete with universal ear speakers, neck loops/lanyards, 4-port USB charger, and assistive listening notification signage kit needed to meet the needs of your customers and ensure your venue's compliance at the same time.

Highlights:

- Advanced DSP SQTM noise reduction technology delivers 20 dB less noise and hiss than any other listening device
- Integrated neck loop / lanyard with DSP loop driver improves the listening experience for T-coil users
- Smallest device of its kind makes it easier to wear and for venues to dispense, store and maintain
- Advanced green battery technology dramatically reduces costs of ownership and hassles while reducing the number of batteries in the landfill
- Ensures public venues deliver an exceptional listening experience while meeting new legislative requirements for assistive listening
